

Name: Isabella Downes

Position

Transit Development and Public Procurement Manager at Circuit Transit

About

Isabella leverages her years of experience and expertise in launching and growing micro-transit services that are complementary to existing transit infrastructure or act as stand-alone options in areas with limited transit access. Isabella holds an MA in Sustainable Urban Development from DePaul University, and a BA in Public Relations from Wayne State University. She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Notable memory

Chaddick provided me a community of like minded students and professionals who were all interested in transit and city centric planning. The Chaddick Institute created a professional foundation for me that I was able to leverage when I graduated. As an alumni, Chaddick helps me to stay connected and in the know of what's happening in the transit world.