Senior Research Analyst, Greater Nashville Regional Council

About

After graduation, I moved to Nashville, Tennessee, and began work as a Research Coordinator with the Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce. After spending three years in this position, I left to upskill with our local software school nonprofit and took an analytics course. After that, I began work with the Greater Nashville Regional Council as a Senior Research Analyst. In my free time, I enjoy working in my front yard garden, pickling, and preserving food, bicycling around, and bagpiping with our local pipes and drums band.

Notable memory

The Brussels trip! I got to travel with Joe and some of our classmates to see what's up with the EU and enjoy Leuven - it was such a wonderful trip.
