Winifred Curan, Professor of Geography, “Greening in Pilsen, Chicago”

Professor Curan examines an environmental justice paradox: How can we improve equity in greenspace access without displacing the very residents the increased greenspace is intended to benefit?

Ramya Ramanath, Associate
Professor, School of Public
Service, A Plot at a Time: Path
Dependence and Creation in
Market-Rate affordable Housing
Production in India.

Professor Ramanath examines the voices, perspectives, and experiences of multiple small private developers operating in the city of Chennai's peri-urban frontiers.
