

List of Fellowships (revised 10.13.14)

● American Association of University Women (AAUW) Dissertation Fellowships are available to women scholars who are completing dissertations. The fellowship must be used for the final year of writing the dissertation. Applicants must have completed all course work, passed all preliminary examinations, and received approval for their research proposals or plans by the preceding November. The deadline is November 15, 2014. Students holding any fellowship for writing a dissertation in the year prior to the AAUW fellowship year are not eligible. Open to applicants in all fields of study. Scholars engaged in science, technology, engineering and math and also researching gender issues are especially encouraged to apply. Award: $20,000. There are also post-doc research fellowships that carry an award of $30,000. This fellowship is limited to U.S. citizens and U.S. permanent residents.

www.aauw.org/fga/fellowships_grants/american.cfm

<http://www.aauw.org/what-we-do/educational-funding-and-awards/american-fellowships/>

● American Association of University Women (AAUW) International Fellowships provides support for one year of study to women who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents who are pursuing studies within the United States. Preference is given to women who show prior commitment to the advancement of women and girls through civic, community, or professional work. Fellowships are available for Master's, Doctoral, and Postdoctoral students. Award: $18,000 (Master's); $20,000 (Doctoral); $30,000 (Postdoctoral). The deadline is December 1, 2014.

<http://aauw-international.scholarsapply.org/default.aspx>

● American Council of Learned Societies

The ACLS Fellowship Program invites research applications in all disciplines of the humanities and humanities-related social sciences. The ultimate goal of the project should be a major piece of scholarly work by the applicant. ACLS does not fund creative work (e.g., novels or films), textbooks, straightforward translation, or pedagogical projects. The Fellowship stipend is set at three levels based on academic rank: up to $35,000 for Assistant Professor and career equivalent; up to $45,000 for Associate Professor and career equivalent; and up to $70,000 for full Professor and career equivalent. The ACLS Fellowships are intended as salary replacement to help scholars devote six to twelve continuous months to full-time research and writing. An ACLS Fellowship may be held concurrently with other fellowships and grants and any sabbatical pay, up to an amount equal to the candidate's current academic year salary. Tenure of the grant may begin no earlier than July 1, 2015 and no later than February 1, 2016. Deadline: September 24, 2014. This fellowship is available to U.S. citizens and permanent residents.

<http://www.acls.org/programs/acls/>

● Andrew W. Mellon Foundation/ACLS Early Career Fellowship Program

The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation/ACLS Early Career Fellowship Program provides support for young scholars to complete their dissertation and, later, to advance their research after being awarded the Ph.D. This program awards fellowships in two categories: Dissertation Completion Fellowships and Recent Doctoral Recipients Fellowships. A grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation supports this program. (There appears to be no citizenship specifications for these awards.)

Dissertation Completion Fellowships assist graduate students in the humanities and related social sciences in the last year of Ph.D. dissertation writing. This program aims to encourage timely completion of the Ph.D. Applicants must be prepared to complete their dissertations within the period of their fellowship tenure and no later than August 31, 2016. Award: $30,000, plus funds for research costs of up to $3,000 and for university fees of up to $5,000. Deadline is October 22, 2014.

www.acls.org/ecfguide.htm

- Berlin Program for Advanced German and European Studies

The Berlin Program for Advanced German and European Studies was established in 1986 at the Freie Universität Berlin to support and promote a new generation of young North American scholars with specialized knowledge of modern and contemporary German and European affairs. The Berlin Program for Advanced German and European Studies offers up to one year of research support at the Freie Universität Berlin. It is open to scholars in all social science and humanities disciplines, including historians working on the period since the mid-19th century. The program accepts applications from U.S. and Canadian nationals or permanent residents. Applicants for a dissertation fellowship must be full-time graduate students at a North American university who have achieved ABD status by the time the proposed research stay in Berlin begins. Also eligible are U.S. and Canadian Ph.D.s who have received their doctorates within the past two calendar years. The Berlin Program is based at, funded and administered by the Freie Universität Berlin. The program's publicity and selection process is organized in cooperation with our North American partner, the GSA (German Studies Association). Deadline: December 1, 2014.

<http://userpage.fu-berlin.de/bprogram/>

- Bourse Chateaubriand

The Chateaubriand Fellowship is a grant offered by the Education Office of the Embassy of France in the United States. Every year, the Chateaubriand Fellowship allows Ph.D. students enrolled in American universities to conduct research in France for up to 8 months. Chateaubriand Fellows receive a stipend of €1500 per month, one round-trip ticket to France, and health insurance coverage for the period of the grant. The Chateaubriand Fellowship is highly competitive and the awarding of the fellowships is very selective.

Eligibility: Candidates must be currently working on their Ph.D.. Candidates do not have to be U. S. citizens, but they must be enrolled in an American university, and they cannot be French citizens. Candidates must obtain a letter of invitation from a French professor employed at a university or research institution. There are three types of fellowship: Fall fellowship (4 months, starts October 1); Spring Fellowship (4 months, starts February 1); Year-long Fellowship (8 months, starts October 1). Candidates must demonstrate in their research proposals how many months they require in France. All application materials are due on December 15 for the following fellowship year. Decisions are announced by the end of April.

<http://france-science.org/chateaubriand3/chateaubriand/>

- The Charlotte W. Newcombe Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships

The Charlotte W. Newcombe Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships The Charlotte W. Newcombe Doctoral Dissertation Fellowships are designed to encourage original and significant study of religious and ethical values in all areas of human endeavor. Eligible proposals have religious or ethical values as a central concern, and come from fields within the humanities and social sciences.

Ph.D. and Th.D. candidates who will complete their dissertation between April 1 2016 and August 31 2016.

The stipend for the Newcombe Fellowship is $25,000 for a twelve-month period of dissertation writing. The competition deadline is November 15, 2014.

<http://woodrow.org/fellowships/newcombe/>

- DAAD Fellowships

DAAD offers a wide range of opportunities to students, scholars, and higher education institutions of the United States and Canada, from undergraduate students to faculty, for study and research in Germany. The DAAD offers a variety of scholarships and grants that support language development, conference funding, and research for doctoral and postdoctoral students.

<http://www.daad.org/>

<https://www.daad.org/phd>

- Dissertation Proposal Development Fellowship

The Dissertation Proposal Development Fellowship (DPDF) Program helps early-stage doctoral students in the humanities and social sciences formulate innovative dissertation research proposals through workshops, exploratory summer research, and writing guided by peer review and faculty mentorship. By the end of the fellowship, participating students will complete a draft proposal that can be reviewed with academic advisors and adapted for submission to an academic department and/or research funding agencies. The DPDF program covers all travel, lodging, and meals expenses related to mandatory attendance at both workshops. Applicants may request up to $5,000 to support summer research expenses, including travel, lodging, meals, and some necessary equipment and supplies. These fellowships are open to US and non-US citizens. The deadline for applications is October 15, 2014.

<http://www.ssrc.org/fellowships/dpdf-fellowship/>

- Ford Foundation Fellowships are designed to increase the diversity of the nation's college and university faculties by increasing their ethnic and racial diversity, to maximize the educational benefits of diversity, and to increase the number of professors who can and will use diversity as a resource for enriching the education of all students. Fellowships are offered on three levels, pre-doctoral (award: $24,000, three-year tenure), dissertation (award: $25,000 one-year stipend), and post-doctoral (award: $45,000, one-year stipend). Deadline: November 19, 2014 (for pre-doctoral), November 14, 2014 (for dissertation and post-doctoral)

http://sites.nationalacademies.org/PGA/FordFellowships/PGA_048001

NB: I am not sure DePaul students are eligible for these fellowships at all (despite this fellowship having been included on the previous iteration of this list), as the site specifies that the fellowships are limited to “Ph.D. or Sc.D. degree candidates studying in an eligible research-based discipline in a dissertation-required program at a U.S. non-profit educational institution” [MP]

- Fulbright Grants

The Fulbright U.S. Student Program offers fellowships for U.S. graduating seniors, graduate students, young professionals and artists to study abroad for one academic year. The Program also includes an important English Teaching Assistant component.

The Fulbright Foreign Student Program enables graduate students, young professionals and artists from abroad to conduct research and study in the United States. Some scholarships are renewed after the initial year of study.

The Fulbright Foreign Language Teaching Assistant Program provides opportunities for young English teachers from overseas to refine their teaching skills and broaden their knowledge of American culture and society while strengthening the instruction of foreign languages at colleges and universities in the United States.

The International Fulbright Science and Technology Award is a new, internationally competed award for doctoral study at leading U.S. institutions in science, technology, and engineering.

The Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program sends American scholars abroad to lecture and/or conduct research for up to a year.

The Fulbright Specialists Program sends U.S. faculty and professionals to serve as expert consultants on curriculum, faculty development, institutional planning, and related subjects at overseas academic institutions for a period of 2 to 6 weeks.

The Fulbright Visiting Scholar Program and Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence Program bring foreign scholars to lecture and/or conduct post-doctoral research for up to a year at U.S. colleges and universities.

The Fulbright Teacher Exchange Program supports one-to-one exchanges of teachers from K-12 schools and a small number of post-secondary institutions.

<http://fulbright.state.gov/>

From DePaul's website (<https://depaul.digication.com/fulbright/Welcome/published>): Application materials become available on May 1 and must be submitted to the DePaul faculty representative before October 1. The application process includes an interview by a DePaul faculty campus committee. Successful applicants usually begin preparing their applications well before September. During the summer, candidates should prepare first drafts of the statements they must submit, solicit letters of recommendation, arrange for language evaluation, request transcripts, and make contacts at the institution at which they will be doing their project. The DePaul faculty representative for the Fulbright Scholarship is Professor Phillip Staley (pstalley@depaul.edu). Complete information on Fulbright grants can be found at www.iie.org/fulbright.

- Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation Research Grants are awarded for proposals from any of the natural and social sciences and the humanities that promise to increase understanding of the causes, manifestations, and control of violence, aggression, and dominance. Highest priority is given to research that can increase understanding and amelioration of urgent problems of violence, aggression, and dominance in the modern world. Applicants may be citizens of any country. Deadline: August 1. Award: $15,000 - $40,000, one or two year tenure.

<http://www.hfg.org/rg/guidelines.htm>

- Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation Dissertation Fellowships are awarded for proposals from any of the natural and social sciences and the humanities that promise to increase understanding of the causes, manifestations, and control of violence, aggression, and dominance. Highest priority is given to research that can increase understanding and amelioration of urgent problems of violence, aggression, and dominance in the modern world. Applicants must be in the final year of their Ph.D. work. Applicants may be citizens of any country. Deadline: February 1. Award: $20,000.

<http://www.hfg.org/df/guidelines.htm>

- IHR Mellon Pre-dissertation and Dissertation Fellowships are offered to students who wish to spend time in the UK while either carrying out preliminary research in order to draw up and refine a dissertation proposal or while carrying out archival research for their dissertation. Candidates must have completed their course work and oral examinations by the time the research visit is undertaken. Pre-dissertation fellowships last two months that must be undertaken between June and the end of September and are valued at $5,000. Dissertation fellowships last one year and run concurrent with the academic year – from 1 October to 30 September – and include a stipend of $25,000. Applications open between November and January.

<http://www.history.ac.uk/fellowships/junior>

- Jacob K. Javits Fellowships Program

This program provides fellowships to students of superior academic ability—selected on the basis of demonstrated achievement, financial need, and exceptional promise—to undertake study at the doctoral and Master of Fine Arts level in selected fields of arts, humanities, and social sciences.

Eligibility is limited to individuals who at the time of application-- (1) will be entering a doctoral program in academic year 2010-2011 and/or who, at the time of application, have not yet completed their first full year of study in the doctoral program for which they are seeking support; (2) will be entering a Master of Fine Arts program in academic year 2010-2011 where the master's is the terminal highest degree awarded in the selected field of study. Eligibility is limited to U.S. citizens or nationals, permanent residents of the U.S., or citizens of any one of the Freely Associated States. Competitions are held annually. Current competition: FY 2009. Applications available: August 13, 2010. Deadline for transmittal of applications: September 30, 2010.

<http://www2.ed.gov/programs/jacobjavits/index.html>

NB: An account must be created through the board of education to apply

- The Mitchem Dissertation Fellowship Program is intended to increase the presence of underrepresented ethnic groups by supporting doctoral candidates in completing their final academic requirement, the dissertation. The fellowship provides a student from other U.S. universities with one year of financial support, including a stipend, fringe benefits, and research and travel funds. The fellow will be in residence at Marquette for an academic year, during which recipient will teach one course in their area of specialization while completing their dissertation. Recipient will also participate in a formal mentoring program. Marquette University Mitchem Fellows will receive a $35,000 stipend, fringe benefits, plus research and travel monies for the 2015-2016 academic year. The deadline for application is January 5, 2015.

<http://www.marquette.edu/provost/mitchem-dissertation-program.shtml>

- Padua University Doctoral Fellowships:

The University of Padova, through the funding of the Fondazione Cassa di Risparmio di Padova e Rovigo, offers research fellowships for foreign students to attend Doctoral Schools/International Courses. During the 3-year doctoral programme, successful candidates will be offered full board and lodging.

<http://www.unipd.it/pg/grants>

- Phi Beta Kappa Society, Mary Isabel Sibley Fellowship for French Studies is awarded annually to young women who wish to study Greek or French language and literature. Award: $20,000

www.pbk.org

<http://www.pbk.org/documents/SibleyExplanationofappprocess.pdf>

- The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) is the Canadian federal agency that promotes and supports university-based research and training in the humanities and social sciences. SSHRC grants and fellowships programs allow researchers to explore, invent and develop deep expertise in a wide variety of disciplines, as well as to target research to specific social needs. SSHRC programs also provide support for research training and research communication activities. Doctoral students: If you are a citizen or permanent resident of Canada, have completed or are about to complete a master's degree or a bachelor's degree in the humanities or social sciences, or are already pursuing a PhD or equivalent or a combined MA/PhD, you may be eligible to apply for a doctoral award. (It appears that there is also a post-doc SSHRC that appears to be open to American citizens.)

<http://www.sshrc.ca/site/apply-demande/students-etudiants-eng.aspx>

- Woodrow Wilson Dissertation Fellowships in Women's Studies encourage original and significant research about women that crosses disciplinary, regional, or cultural boundaries. Applicants must be enrolled in a U.S. doctoral program and have completed all pre-dissertation requirements, including approval of the dissertation proposal and their dissertations completed by the summer of 2016. Electronic applications only. □Award: $2,000 to be used for expenses connected with the dissertation including travel, books, microfilming, taping, and computer services. The deadline is October 15 2014.

www.woodrow.org/womens-studies

POST-DOCS

- Harper-Schmidt Fellows at the University of Chicago

The University of Chicago Society of Fellows will begin accepting applications on September 2, 2014 for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. The Fellows are members of the College Faculty whose primary responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program. Candidates should demonstrate excellence in their original scholarship as well as in teaching. Fellowships are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2015. In most years, Fellows teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. Each Fellow also has the opportunity to design an independent course and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical in the third year of residence. The annual salary for 2015-2016 will be $64,000. The effective date for these teaching appointments will be September 1, 2015. The deadline for applications is November 2, 2014. The deadline for letters of recommendation is November 16, 2014.

Website: <http://societyoffellows.uchicago.edu/>

- Pembroke Center at Brown University

The Pembroke Center annually supports three or four postdoctoral research fellows in residence for an academic year. Candidates who do work that is qualitative and humanistic in nature are drawn from the humanities, the social sciences, and the life sciences. Fellows may not hold a tenured position. The Center has an annual research focus. The theme for the 2015-2016 appointment is 'Fatigue'. The term of appointment is July 1, 2015-June 30, 2016. The stipend is $50,000, $1,500 for research expense, plus a supplement for health and dental insurance. Deadline: December 4, 2014

<http://brown.edu/research/pembroke-center/postdoctoral-fellowships>

- Post-Doctoral Research Fellowships at the University of São Paulo

The University of São Paulo offers a wide variety of post-doctoral research fellowships each year in a wide variety of disciplines. There is also the opportunity to request individual grants at any point during the year. Recipients are required to relocate to the University of São Paulo, Brazil. The thematic and disciplinary content of each grant changes significantly each year. Recipients receive a monthly fellowship of R$ 6,143.40 (approximately $2575 USD). Application deadlines are typically October 30.

<http://www.fapesp.br/oportunidades/>

<http://www.fapesp.br/en/>

- Provost's Postdoctoral Fellowships at the University of Chicago

As part of an effort to promote a diversity of backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences among its faculty, the University of Chicago invites nominations and applications for the Provost's Career Enhancement Postdoctoral Scholarship (PCEPS). The Office of the Provost will select two promising junior scholars to receive a two-year postdoctoral scholarship beginning Fall 2015. Scholars in all fields are eligible. Candidates must have completed all requirements for their doctoral degree (Ph.D., M.D., J.D., or foreign equivalent) before the scholarship start date, and must have received their doctoral degree no earlier than November 1, 2007. Individuals currently holding a postdoctoral or faculty position at the University of Chicago are not eligible. Each postdoctoral scholarship will carry an annual salary of $60,000 and an annual research fund of $5,000. Applications and nominations will be accepted September 1, 2014 through November 1, 2014.

<http://provostpostdoc.uchicago.edu>

- The Carter G. Woodson Institute Post-Doctoral Residential Research & Teaching Fellowship Program

The Carter G. Woodson Institute for African-American and African Studies at the University of Virginia invites scholars whose work focuses on Africa and/or the African Diaspora to apply for a two-year post-doctoral research and teaching fellowship, beginning August 25, 2015, and ending August 24, 2017. The fellowship carries an annual salary of $45,000, plus benefits. Applications and application materials must be received by December 1, 2014.

<http://www.woodson.virginia.edu/fellowship/postdoc>

- The Hannah Arendt Center for Ethics and Politics at Bard College

The Hannah Arendt Center is offering two separate research fellowships for the 2011-2012 academic year. The first fellowship entails teaching two courses in Bard's First-Year Seminar Program, the second two courses in a joint fellowship with the Bard Prison Initiative. The first fellowship is for a Ph.D. in political theory, philosophy, or a related field in the humanities or social sciences. The fellow's work should intersect meaningfully with Hannah Arendt's thinking. In residence at the Arendt Center, the fellow will pursue his or her independent research at the Center, which includes Hannah Arendt's personal library. Bard College's Hannah Arendt Center for Ethical and Political Thinking and the Bard Prison Initiative are jointly searching for a postdoctoral fellow to be in residence at Bard College for the 2010-2011 academic year. The fellow should have a Ph.D. in political theory, philosophy, or a related field in the humanities or social sciences and his or her work should intersect meaningfully with Hannah Arendt's thinking. In residence at the Arendt Center, the fellow will pursue his or her independent research. The Deadline for Consideration is March 1, 2011. Decisions will be made by the early April. The fellowship runs from Sept. 1 2010 through May 31, 2011 and includes a $20,000 stipend.

<http://www.bard.edu/hannaharendtcenter/fellows/>

I can't seem to find any application information on the website (in fact, I believe that the 2015-2016 applications have not yet opened), so I don't know that I can update the dates here [MP]

GOOD WEBSITES FOR FELLOWSHIPS

- <http://scholarships.binghamton.edu/grad.html>
- <http://staff.lib.msu.edu/harris23/grants/3subject.htm>

Language Grants

Blakemore Foundation Language Grants

These grants are for advanced intensive study of Asian languages. For Mandarin Chinese, one can study either at the International Chinese Language Program (ICLP) at National Taiwan University (Taipei) or the Inter-University Program (IUP) at Tsinghua University (Beijing). The grants are intended for those pursuing an academic, professional or business career that involves the regular use of a modern East or Southeast Asian language. One must already have a minimum of three years of Chinese language, or equivalent. They are primarily intended for graduate students or those early in a career involving China, although they occasionally but rarely are granted to students coming directly from an undergraduate degree. They must be used for a full academic year of study and cover tuition, transportation, and living expenses.

Application Deadline: December 30, 2014 (for summer or fall 2015)

<http://www.blakemorefoundation.org/Language%20Grants/Language.htm>

China Scholarship Council (CSC)

The Chinese government has been offering scholarships for two DePaul students each year to study in China for one semester. The scholarships include tuition, housing, insurance, and monthly living allowance. Students choose three schools as their preferences, although the final placement is made by the China Scholarship Council. Only current DePaul students can apply, but this scholarship can be used either while still a student at DePaul or after graduation. The requirements are flexible, but preference will be given to students who will have completed at least two years of Chinese language. This is a great opportunity. Seven DePaul students so far have gone to China with this scholarship. For application information, contact Prof. Stalley (pstalley@depaul.edu).

<http://en.csc.edu.cn/>

Application Deadline: March 1, 2015 (for academic year 2015-2016)

Huayu Enrichment Scholarship

The government of Taiwan offers scholarships for students to study Chinese language in Taiwan. The scholarship provides a monthly stipend sufficient to live on. It does not cover airfare to Taiwan or tuition, but tuition there is inexpensive. The scholarships are normally for one year, although they sometimes grant shorter term scholarships. These scholarships can also be used for study after you graduate, and they can be used by students with no prior knowledge of Chinese. In addition to applying for the scholarship, you must also apply to enter a language program in Taiwan. We have information on that. In the past two years, two DePaul students have been offered this scholarship.

Application Deadline: March 31, 2014 (for academic year 2014-2015)

<http://www.edutw.org/english/scholarships/index.html>

Here it doesn't seem that the 2015-2016 applications are open, but we can probably assume that the date would simply be March 31, 2015.