

A Fashion Show

Black Everyday: Style and Politics in the 1960s

Monday, November 12, 2018

6:30-9:00 p.m.

Rm 120, LPC Student Center

Join us for a tableau vivant fashion show, home movie clips of stylish black Chicagoans, and a discussion on the theory of dress as activism while bopping to the sounds of live music of the period. Clothing will be modeled by members of the DePaul community.

Food and refreshments will be served.

Co-sponsored by: Black Cultural Center
