Kansas City, MO

Position

Designer; Writer; Communications & Marketing Consultant

About

Joan graduated in June 2011 and dedicated her time and talents to supporting the fundraising, development and communications needs of nonprofits in and around Chicago. When she's not advising corporate leaders on best practices for employee communications or writing campaign speeches for local politicians, Joan enjoys designing logos, inventing new fonts and cracking cold cases with her fellow armchair sleuths.

Notable memory

As a Chaddick Scholar, Joan enjoyed introducing high schoolers to the topic of urban planning and leading them on their first tour of the Pilsen neighborhood.
