

Mia Killion

Hometown

Chicago, IL

Recent Positions Institute

Teaching Assistant for DePaul University's Geography Department

About

My involvement with Chaddick began while I was pursuing a graduate degree in the Sustainable Urban Development program at DePaul, with a focus on Geographic Information Systems (GIS). I am a Double Demon with a B.S. in Economics from DePaul. My studies have focused on equitable transit-oriented development and spatial analysis.

Notable Memory

I enjoyed the trips to the different areas of the South Side and the South suburbs because I learned so many new things about the area I grew up. For example, I had no idea The Plant existed until our trip there, and it was within a half mile of my childhood home.