

DEPAUL HUMANITIES CENTER IN CONVERSATION WITH GREAT MINDS

Sally Mann

Monday, February 3, 2014

6:00 - 8:00 P.M.

DePaul Student Center,

Room 120

2250 N. Sheffield Ave.

It is of little surprise that Sally Mann's name figures so prominently in nearly every list of the greatest photographers ever. Whether turning her camera toward the gravity of a single tree, the quietude of an overgrown battlefield, the banality of a rotting corpse, or the still and exigent truth of her immediate family, Mann is not only capable of making her world and worldview reappear in detail so present that it envelopes us as we enter her photographs, but she does so with the technical skill of an artist who knows that the image is the world and not merely a representation of it, though we cannot help but see everything anew through her eyes. It will thus be of little surprise, too, that Sally Mann's name carves out its space on the list of the greatest artists ever.

Join us for an evening celebrating and investigating her past, present, and future work, as the DePaul Humanities Center is honored to welcome, and be in conversation with, Sally Mann.

This event is free and open to the public.
